FORMER COUNSEL OF EVANGELIST GIVES
DENIAL OF CHARGES

Mrs. Seilaff's Story Refuted By Defense
Witness

SACRAMENTO, Calif., April 20.—A complete denial of Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman-Seilaff's charges that she was hired by Roland Rich Wooley, former attorney of Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, to produce a "Miss X" to pose as Kenneth G. Ormiston's companion at Carmel-by-the-sea, was on record in the impeachment trial of Judge Carlos S. Hardy today.

The denial was made by Wooley, called as a defense witness to refute the charges of Mrs. Seilaff, a state's witness, that she arranged with Wooley and Judge Hardy to produce an alibi for the evangelist's mysterious disappearance three years ago.

Wooley said he never had seen Mrs. Seilaff until August 13, 1926, when they were brought together in the office of Judge J. A. Bardin at Salinas, where "Miss X" made the affidavit which was used to support Mrs. McPherson's claim that she was not Ormiston's companion at the Carmel cottage.

He denied Mrs. Seilaff's charge that he had given her expense money to produce the "Miss X" in Los Angeles prior to their meeting in Salinas. He also denied he had known Mrs. Seilaff during their childhood days in Salt Lake City, where she testified they attended school together.

Wooley said that he and Judge Bardin had gone to the judge's office in response to a request from Mrs. Seilaff who told them that it was her sister who occupied the Carmel cottage with Ormiston.

The witness said he and Judge Bardin demanded that Mrs. Seilaff produce the sister, whereupon she went to a Salinas hotel and returned with Mrs. Viola Kimball.

After warning the women of the danger of making false statements, Wooley said the affidavits were signed, one by Mrs. Seilaff and one by "Miss X."

Wooley, in answer to a prosecution question, denied that he prepared the statements for Mrs. Seilaff before she came to Carmel.

SANITARY DISTRICT COMMITTEE ACCUSED OF "WHOOPEE" PARTY

SOMEONE LEFT 'EM NEAR A HOLE

COLUMBUS, O., April 20.—While Paul Stewart, 22, of Tiffin, Ohio State University student was at liberty under $60 bond, police today were trying to determine whether the theft of fifteen city-owned lanterns from a waterworks excavation was a college prank or a serious offense.

Young Stewart, a junior in the college of commerce and administration and resident at the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity house, was arrested on charges of petit larceny after the lanterns were said to have been found in his possession.

He was formally charged with petit larceny and released on bond. He had no statement to make.

EDITORS CONSIDER ETHICS OF "GHOST- WRITING" PRACTICE

Reveal Lindbergh's Stories Written By Seven Men

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Ethical aspects of "ghost writing," brought to their attention by one of the authors of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's newspaper articles, was considered today by members of the American Society of News-paper Editors.

As "ghost writer" of long experience and admitted literary double for the famous aviator on Lindbergh's good will tour of Central America, Ike Shuman, executive editor of the Brooklyn Standard Union and former New York Times reporter, both defended and condemned the practice.

Stories credited to Lindbergh actually represent the aviator's observations and emotions, he said, since they are carefully edited by their supposed author, but many of the articles appearing under the names of popular athletic heroes are never so much as read by the person to whom they are attributed.

"Lindbergh has had seven ghosts," Shuman said, "but the material appearing under his name is his own insofar as editing can make it so. The only reason for ghost writers in his case is that he lacks the time to do his own writing."

"I think the best story turned out on my trip with him was the one he wrote himself on the edge of a chart while in the air. I didn't have to change a word of it."

Walter M. Harrison, president of the society, in commenting on Shuman's paper, said he might suspect that former President Coolidge's magazine articles were written by a "ghost" if they weren't "written so badly."

CHEATS ARREST BY SHOOTING HIMSELF

SIDNEY, O., April 20.—The body of Louis O. Kendall, 38, who, according to Sheriff Dilbone, shot and killed himself rather than submit to arrest on a non-support charge, was sent to the Kendall home in Kenton today. The tragedy occurred last night when the sheriff went to the house where Kendall was living and produced the non-support warrant. Kendall, Dilbone said, excused himself, stepped into the next room and shot himself.

LOCOMOTIVE SEIZED

YEARNS TO BURN PIANOLAS

House Peters, Film Player, Wants To Make Bonfire Of Noise-Making Devices.

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., April 20.—House Peters, the husky movie hero, wants to make a bonfire of his neighbors' pianolas and has tried newspaper advertising to collect the instruments which he claims are torturing him.

In today's issue of the Beverly Hills Script appears an advertisement paid for by Peters, in which he offers to purchase pianolas operating in homes surrounding his residence in the exclusive district.

Peters is under $1,000 bond in police court to keep peace. His neighbors made an official

HOME TOWN WELCOMES JOHNSTON

When Henry S. Johnston, impeached governor of Oklahoma, returned to his home at Perry, he told the assembled throngs that he, was "hijacked out of office" because he would not do the bidding of a "political gang." He has resumed his law practice and plans to seek the senatorial nomination next year. Above, he is surrounded by a part of the crowd.

SOUTHERN STRIKE SITUATION SEEMS APPROACHING CLIMAX

ATLANTA, Ga., April 20.—The strike situation in the south seemed moving toward a climax today.

What is predicted to be the biggest labor demonstration in history was planned for today by Fred Erwin Beal, alleged communist organizer of the National Textile Workers at Gastonia, N. C., who is defying authorities and who is believed in hiding at Charlotte, N. C.

Beal, with the assistance of George Pershing, co-organizer, hopes to have every cotton textile worker in the Carolinas at a mass meeting to be held at Gastonia. A parade is to follow.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Beal for the alleged taking of the wife of Try Jones, Gastonia, to New York to make speeches in behalf of communists.

Meantime, Tom P. Jimison, attorney for the National Textile Workers Union, has posted a reward of $100 for the arrest of members of the masked mob who yesterday wrecked the union's headquarters at Gastonia.

Condition of workers in the Charlotte section was revealed yesterday when representatives of the union arrived with food for strikers' families. Those on strike had been forced to fish in the nearby streams for food. The workers have petitioned the mills to resume operations.

At Elizabethton conditions are more quiet than since the strike.

ONE KILLED IN GAS EXPLOSION

Another May Die; Third Burned

ATHENS, O., April 20.—One person is dead, another may die and a third was in a serious condition here today following a gas explosion which almost wrecked a two-story frame house.

Frank Rice, 25, died today, the first victim of the explosion, and little hope was held for the recovery of his cousin, Flossie Burson, 17, who was badly burned.

C. F. Starr, retired Athens merchant and former city councilman, was the third burned.

Doors and windows were blown out and the walls were left bulging.

DISEASE MENACE IS FACING ARKANSAS

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 20.—Northwestern Arkansas, hardly recovered from effects of a tornado which took more than 50 lives and devastated parts of six counties and suffering from spring overflows of many of its streams, faced the menace of disease today.

That was revealed by United States Attorney Charles H. Tuttle, who announced that Steinhardt had written out a statement of what he intended to testify before taking poison in his room at the Robert Morris Hotel, Philadelphia.

Steinhardt's death was even more dramatic than his disappearance in January when he left the city after allegedly swindling his clients out of between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000.

He was in his room at the Robert Morris when George J. Mintzer, assistant federal district attorney, arrived to take him into custody.

Steinhardt asked to be excused for a moment, stepped into the next room and came back a moment later. He took one step toward Mintzer and collapsed. He had drunk a quantity of poison.

AGED MAN'S BODY TAKEN FROM RIVER

CINCINNATI, O., April 20.—Coroner F. C. Swing today was conducting an investigation of circumstances surrounding the finding of the body of Jacob Grischy, 76, secretary of the Wood Heel Company, in the Ohio River.

Swing said he was satisfied that Grischy who disappeared March 18, committed suicide, but he wants to know why he was not notified when the body was found yesterday.

The coroner finally was called by an undertaker.

TWO YOUTHS BURNED TO DEATH WHEN AUTO TURNS OVER, BURNS

MARIETTA, O., April 20.—George Seavers, 18, and Harold Williams, 18, both of Marietta, were burned to death early today when their automobile struck a telephone pole, overturned into a ditch and burst into flames.

The youths were returning from a dance at Beverly, between Zanesville and Marietta when the accident occurred.

Ed Gardner, one of three favorite boys finished eight, being handicapped by a leg injury.

GOVERNOR SIGNS 77 BILLS; ELECTION BILL IS INCLUDED

Three Administration Measures Signed;
Vetoed One

COLUMBUS, O., April 20.—Seventy-seven bills enacted by the eighty-eighth general assembly and bearing the signature of Governor Myers Y. Cooper, were filed with the secretary of state today. They become laws upon expiration of the referendum period, ninety days hence.

Thirty-eight of the bills were signed by the governor today. The remainder were signed late yesterday, for release this morning, after an all-day session of the executive's "legislative cabinet" at the executive mansion.

Those signed include three administration measures: (1) The Herbert-Martin bill recodifying the election laws and providing for election reforms. (2) The Norton bill which, in effect, abolishes assessments against abutting property for state highway construction and permitting regional highway projects, and (3) the Marshall bill recodifying the general corporation laws.

The principal features of the new election code include:

1. Optional permanent registration of voters in cities of more than 16,000 population.

2. Provision for recounts of ballots in contested elections upon deposit of $10 bond for each precinct in which recount is desired.

3. Greater power given to secretary of state to combat election frauds.

4. Combines the state and presidential primary elections in presidential years, both to be held the second Tuesday in May.

5. Permits any political subdivision to install voting machines at own expense.

6. Increases the number of signatures candidates for elective office must obtain.

Another important measure the governor signed was the Herbert bill, revising the "blue sky" securities law to protect investors from stock-selling concerns.

Another important measure signed was the Boden act which raises the automobile speed limit from thirty-five to forty-five miles an hour outside municipalities, from fifteen to twenty miles in congested districts and from twenty-five to thirty-five miles an hour in cities outside the congested districts.

Still another bill the executive signed was the Ross measure raising the penalty for selling intoxicating liquor to minors from a $10 fine and thirty days in jail to a fine of from $1,000 to $5,000 and from one to five years in the penitentiary, or both.

The governor vetoed the bill by Rep. Beck, Montgomery County, providing that the pay of a municipal employee engaged in work on public improvements shall be included as a part of the actual cost.

"Before I took office as secretary of the treasury in March, 1921, I resigned every office that I then held in any corporation and re-signed all my directorates in such corporations and I have not been since that time nor am I now a director or officer in any corporation, or both."

The letter was written to Reed in response to a question at the recent meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

"Without entering into the merits or demerits of any other suggestion at the present time, I can declare that divisions in the ranks of the farmers themselves encourage those who oppose all farm relief and can at best bring only great delays and danger of entire failure."

"If after eight years of agitation and debate on a matter so vital to a large part of our people we are not successful in putting the question out of politics and on the way to solution under economic guidance, we have need of unity in the ranks of the farmers themselves and the different groups which reflect their views in congress."

In the writing of the statement some saw a reflection of the stir the senate farm blocs' debate move is said to have caused among farmers in the middle west. The debate forces were gaining ground every hour, they claimed, and the statements of the cabinet members came just in time. They have gained sufficient ground to cause Rep. Jones, Dem., Texas, to attempt a move in behalf of the plan in the house.

Jones announced he would introduce the debt relief amendment to the pending administration bill on Monday. Leaders said they were in complete control of the situation and thought Jones' step would fail.

Debate ended today in the house agriculture committee and the bill will be taken up Monday under a five minute debate limit.

The senate was in recess until Monday.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Ethical aspects of "ghost writing," brought to their attention by one of the authors of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's newspaper articles, was considered today by members of the American Society of newspaper editors.

According to the story, the party included not only the official Washington delegation but 120 other sanitary district employees who made up a special train from Chicago. That special train, it was said was stocked with whiskey, beer and champagne which accounted for the delegation's decision to carry its relief work to Broadway.

According to the story, the party was to have climated a journey to Washington by a sanitary board delegation in the interests of Mississippi flood sufferers in 1927. Mathiesen's reported story revealed that the delegation never reached the nation's capital, spending its time and the taxpayers' money celebrating along Broadway.

As "ghost writer" of long experience and admitted literary double for the famous aviator on Lindbergh's good will tour of Central America, Ike Shuman, executive editor of the Brooklyn Standard Union and former New York Times reporter, both defended and condemned the practice.

Fear Federal Force On American Side May Attack

NOGALES, Sonora, Mex., April 20.—Rebel forces maintained a close watch on the international boundary line today in fear that sixty-five men who arrived in Nogales, Ariz., from Mexican, planned to make a move against Nogales, Sonora.

Federal forces waiting to take over the customs house here in the event the town is captured by government troops, but rebels remained unconvinced that the men were not federal soldiers.

Rebel guards on the international boundary lines were strengthened because of the suspicion that the force might attempt to seize Nogales, Sonora, from the American side.

Edward Koehler, Nogales, Ariz., in the rebel service, brought his plane here from Hermosillo and it was reported that the ship would be used by Capt. R. H. Polk, of Nashville, Tenn., also in the insurrectionist service.

Bernardo Salazar, director general of customs houses in rebel territory, has deserted and entered the United States. Federals retook the town of Mesquite, Sonora, seventy miles west of Nogales, yesterday. The loyal troops, from the state of Lower California, suffered two privates killed. Three rebel officers and eight rebel privates were killed.

Virtually the entire group of defendants were convicted last fall on a charge of conspiracy in connection with election terrorism and fined from $400 to $1,200 each.

The letter was written to Reed to outline the secretary's financial connections and was presented to the Senate Judiciary Committee during the committee's investigation into the right of Mellon to hold office.

Sen. McKellar, Dem., Tenn., whose resolution started the investigation said he would call on President Hoover to live up to his inaugural address advocating enforcement of all laws by asking the resignation of Mellon.

Mckellar contends Mellon is violating the law establishing the office of secretary of the treasury, which provides no secretary can be directly or indirectly in trade or commerce.

In his letter Mellon said he still owned stock in several business corporations, saying the stock was much less than a majority of the voting stock of such companies.

Jones announced he would introduce the debenture amendment to the pending administration bill on Monday. Leaders said they were in complete control of the situation and thought Jones' step would fall.

Debate ended today in the House agriculture committee and the bill will be taken up Monday under a five minute debate limit.

The Senate was in recess until Monday.

Curtis' Sister Accorded Full Social Honors and Rank

President Hoover and Secretary Stimson took a hand in the social warfare by peremptorily ending the reign of the State Department as the official arbiter of Washington society. While the administration was openly expressing its disapproval of the "teapot tempest," Mrs. Edward Everett Gann won a temporary victory when the diplomatic corps formally voted to accord her the courtesies usually given to the wife of a Vice-President at all "official and ceremonious diplomatic entertainments." In a note to Mr. Stimson, Sir Esme Howard, dean of the corps, made it plain the diplomats were carefully refraining from designating Mrs. Gann as the "official hostess" of Vice-President Curtis.

President Hoover and Secretary Stimson took a hand in the social warfare by peremptorily ending the reign of the State Department as the official arbiter of Washington society. While the administration was openly expressing its disapproval of the "tea pot tempest," Mrs. Edward Everett Gann won a temporary victory when the diplomatic corps formally voted to accord her the courtesies usually given to the wife of a Vice-President at all "official and ceremonious diplomatic entertainments." In a note to Mr. Stimson, Sir Esme Howard, dean of the corps, made it plain the diplomats were carefully refraining from designating Mrs. Gann as the "official hostess" of Vice-President Curtis.

ADJUTANT GENERAL WILL INSPECT NEW ARMORY SITE HERE

At the invitation of Xenians interested in the project, Brig. Gen. Arthur W. Reynolds, Columbus, adjutant-general of Ohio, has promised to make another visit to Xenia at an early date for the purpose of inspecting an additional proposed site for the location of a $50,000 National Guard Armory in this city.

The actual date of his second trip to Xenia has not been decided upon but the adjutant-general will let Xenians know in advance.

The latest site offered for the armory is a triangular tract of land in the Dodds Addition north of Shawnee Park pavilion and in proximity to the Springfield branch of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Gen. Reynolds is known to prefer the site in the Dodds Addition in the rear of the Greene County District Library but these lots are under restrictions provided for in form deeds which bar erection of any buildings other than single residences.

City Auditor T. H. Zell recently consulted the attorney general, who asked for a copy of the form deed. It is the opinion that the state could probably condemn the property for armory purposes if so desired. The form deed will be studied carefully and a formal opinion on the matter is expected to be given by the legal department of the state.

Mr. Theodore Johnson, Hill St., who has been ill for some time, is now able to be out.

GARDEN CLUB NOTES

April, like March, is a critical month in the life of a garden, though in a different way. Rain, sun, sharp frosts follow each other with unpleasant frequency. Two years ago on April 22nd and 23rd, with lilacs abloom, as now, we had snow and freezing temperature, and the present frosty days have worked havoc with the stems of tulips and bleeding heart.

Perennials, though slightly injured by frost, are making goodly growth, but so are weeds to the dismay of the gardener who waits for a more convenient season to pull them up. An hour now will save many hours later in the spring.

Watch now for the self sown annuals. Cosmos, larkspur, calendula, Shirley poppy, etc., and transplant them to desired places while they are very small, before their sensitive tap roots grow longer.

April is a good time to begin planting your glads. By planting at intervals until July or may have these lovely flowers for the greater part of the summer. Be sure to reserve some of your best for the flower show in September. Catalogues usually give approximate blooming period.

Next week is Garden Week; let's all get busy with our garden plans and prepare for a more beautiful Xenia than ever before. Trees and flowers make a city more attractive than bricks and stone.

UNDONE BY GAME CALLED "LOO"

Simon Kenton and Other Young Bloods Caught Gambling For 6 1-4 Cents

BEING fined $10 and costs on a grand jury indictment charging them with "losing and winning to each other a large sum of money, to wit, six and one-fourth cents," while playing an old Chinese card game known as "Loo," was the unusual experience of nine prominent Xenians exactly a century ago, it is disclosed in old records in the office of Clerk of Courts Harvey Elam.

The joint indictment alleged that they were "idle and evil disposed persons and of very dissolute habits and gambling dispositions." It was asserted that they "unlawfully played and bet together at a game of cards called Loo, losing and winning to and from each other a large sum of money, to wit, the sum of six and one-fourth cents."

The record was signed by George J. Smith, presiding judge of Common Pleas Court.

Loo is an old Chinese game played for stakes, with three and sometimes five, cards dealt to a player from a full pack. When five cards are used the highest is generally the knave of clubs called "pam"; with three, the cards rank as in whist.

Others named in the indictment were: John Dodd, John Ankenmeyer, Jr., Michael Nunnecker, Caleb West, Henry E. Spencer, Samuel Harry, Joseph Bullard and Samuel Eyler, all residents of Xenia and who were believed to have been members of prominent families at that time.

Editor, Gazette: SANITARY LAWS

For the purpose of protecting those persons who labor in Ohio, especially the employees who are furnished any cloth or other material to be used as wiping rags whereby a disease may be contracted by a use of insanitary cloth or other material, the General Assembly of the State of Ohio passed a law on April 5, 1923: "To require the washing, sterilizing and drying of wiping rags furnished by owners and operators of workshops and factories for use of employees therein."

This safety law we are informed is being violated in various parts of our state, therefore, as a warning to those who furnish said wiping rags we deem it advisable to publish the following section which is self explanatory.

"Section 1011. Section 1. No person, firm, co-partnership, corporation, operating a workshop or factory, shall furnish or deliver to any employee, any cloth or other material to be used as wiping rags by employees in such workshops or factories, unless such cloth or other material shall first be thoroughly washed with soap and alkali soda, sterilized with chemical preparations and dried with an average heat of 212 degrees. Whoever violates any of the provisions of this act, for a first offense shall be fined not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars; for a second offense shall be fined not less than two hundred dollars nor more than three hundred dollars; and for a third and each subsequent offense shall be imprisoned in the workhouse for not less than thirty days nor more than ninety days."

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

GOOD OR EVIL? — Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live: and so the Lord, the God of hosts, shall be with you, as ye have spoken.—Amos 5:14.

BIG CROP OF MISTAKES

Secretary of War James James W. Good seems to have qualified as the country's leading optimist.

Arriving in Chicago the other day on a business trip through the middle west, the secretary remarked that the troubles of Chicago, centering about the gang wars, bootleg rings and racketeering combines, were nothing more or less than "growing pains."

"Perhaps," he said, "it is because Chicago so completely and emphatically represents the problems, difficulties and perplexities of modern cities, grown to unexampled greatness in amazingly short time, that it has had more than a fair share of attention to its derelictions."

This, on the whole, is the most optimistic view anyone has given the Chicago situation in a long time. Some people, far from calling the gangland mess a species of growing pains, have seen it a token of the last days—a symbol that not only Chicago but all of America is on the verge of a breakdown, in which democracy, as we know it, is going to smash.

Yet the secretary is probably right. It is no use trying to gauge what happens in this country by the old standards. The outstanding fact about us is that we are headed toward something entirely new in the world. Just what that will be may not be quite clear, yet; but it will be unlike anything that has gone before, and our way of arriving at it, likewise, will be unique.

The nation began as a place where every man could be free. The old tyrannies were thrown off; any man who cared to cross the Atlantic and try his luck in the new land could be sure that there would be both opportunity and freedom awaiting him.

In the early days, that was a new conception of things. No such thing had ever been tried. Naturally, people did not quite know how to handle themselves—and a long series of mistakes, ranging all the way from the Civil War to the recent oil scandals, were the inevitable result.

Yet, on the whole, it worked, and it would be unfair to judge the system by its incidental mistakes, no matter how dismaying these have been.

A new element has entered the problem now. On the basis of this old concept of democracy there has come a new effort—an effort to give men freedom in the economic as well as the political sphere. The age of machinery is being welded on to the old foundation—and the ultimate result will be amazing and as unparalleled as the new-born democracy was in the year 1800.

The job, inevitably, is being accompanied by turmoil. It is producing a big crop of mistakes. Chicago, typifying the new America more than any other city, shows them at their worst. But there is no reason for despondency.

Lawlessness and corruption will pass. The same tremendous vitality that produced them will conquer them. Secretary Good's optimism is not unjustified.

A lot of people would have fewer troubles if they would think less about the injustices of life and work.

Asparagus canners about three years ago got together and spent a million dollars in advertising. The result was that asparagus, once considered in the class of luxuries, became a popular food. The price went down almost 50 per cent. Business grew enormously. Today production barely keeps up with consumption. Increased advertising is one of the outstanding necessities of industrial and commercial growth.

"FORBA"

For five years a young woman—Miss Forba McDaniel has been secretary of the Indiana Bankers' association. The bankers call her "Forba." She knows her business. She knows banks, and how to run them. She knows people, and she has executive ability. That is a lot of equipment for a slender girl. It's just another indication of what the boys who are coming out of school and college this June are going to be up against in the new competition on this rapidly changing globe.

FIRST THINGS FIRST

A farm bureau federation officially announces to a Chicago audience: "Farm women are seeking cultural advantages for themselves and their children, even more earnestly than the urban dweller, probably because they are harder of access, for one thing. Our program is devoted to one general object—teaching the farm people to put the first things in life first, and they are responding more and more eagerly."

In a way, the whole idea and purpose of education is put in those few words—"putting first things first." If we only knew how to do that, and would do it, we should be exceedingly wise.

PRECAUTIONS ADVISED IN CHOOSING PASSENGER PLANE PILOTS

By W. IRVING GLOVER
Second Assistant Postmaster General

(Warren Irving Glover was born in Brooklyn, Oct. 2, 1879. He was educated in the public schools and began as a boy in the employ of a commission merchant in New York City, continuing as a distributor in the woolen trade until 1906. In that year he organized the Afton Holding corporation, a real estate concern. He served as a member of the New Jersey assembly from 1916 to 1921 and as speaker in 1920. During the next four years he was third assistant postmaster general and has been second assistant since 1925. His home is in Englewood, N. J.)

Airplane passenger traffic can be made just as safe as railroad passenger traffic.

Liners carrying passengers, however, have got to be impressed with the all-important fact of requiring those pilots who pilot ships carrying passengers to be experienced.

The engineer who pulls the throttle on the 20th Century limited did not make his first run with that train after 60 days operation of trains. He was first an engineer of a work train, the slow freight, fast freight, fast mail train, local passenger train and other passenger trains, taking him years to reach a seat in the cab of the 20th Century. The important thing in his mind is the load of human freight behind him.

Pilots of airplanes carrying passengers should also have impressed upon them the importance of the human load back of the pilot's cockpit. Pilots must be trained in experimental flights, trial flights and ferry flights before they should be permitted to carry passengers. Pilots must be impressed with the fact that they are to take no chances with human life, even with only one life at stake. There should be no chances taken by pilots with a load of human freight.

Airplane passengers will see that passengers who enter their ships will have the same confidence in the air pilot as they do in the engineer who sits at the throttle in his cab on a railroad passenger train.

There have been some frightful accidents where lives have been snuffed out because some one took a chance. Confidence in the air pilot and confidence in the management of an air passenger company which operates the ships will do more in making flying popular in this country than any other one thing at the present time.

How to Achieve Beauty

BY MME. HELENA RUBINSTEIN

The styles in clothes today reflect the spirit of youth. It is the trend of the age to want to stay and look young. Women want to—all of them —and the fashion designers know that they do, so they are holding their feminine public up to the mark by creating clothes of the youthful type and forcing women to create the figures and faces to wear them.

Go into any up-to-date, modern shop, and ask to see clothes "suitable for the woman of middle age."

What do you find? The self-same styles, fabrics and colors that the younger woman is wearing. Why?

Because there is no longer any sharply-defined difference between clothes for women of various ages—after the simple, school-girl age is past. Twenty-five and 40—or 50—wear identical dresses. Sizes vary, but the fashions are alike.

Once a daughter could not have borrowed a dress of mother's. Now, if they are the same height and size, she may. And not only a perfumery street dress, but a gay, colorful evening gown or wrap, and she will look neither strangely matronly nor overdressed and oversophisticated.

Styles are simple, fabrics soft, and colors are both delicate and bright.

All of them are suited to youth—to the youthful woman of any age. But—they require youthful faces and figures to wear them properly.

A woman may not choose these fashions appropriately—and they are the most charming fashions of all—unless her figure and face will stand it.

Have you seen a "middle-aged" or elderly woman struggling uncomfortably along the street in a dress too tight, too short, or, briefly, too "young" for her? I say "middle-aged" or elderly not only because she was, but because she looked and acted that way. A woman of the same age might have worn the same style of clothes when she was young.

Give your face and your figure a chance. Let them match the youth of your heart and spirit.

You may keep the fresh, clear-cut lines of a youthful contour and the smooth, unwrinkled complexion you had when you were young. And you may wear the clothes of the moment with complete assurance and charm, by going in for beauty cultivation sensibly, just as all smart women are doing.

Don't let the fashions make you appear ridiculous, you women of middle age or over. And don't feel that you must compromise by wearing quiet, unattractive clothes of youthful design and color.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

GOOD OR EVIL? — Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live: and so the Lord, the God of hosts, shall be with you, as ye have spoken.—Amos 5:14.

BIG CROP OF MISTAKES

Secretary of War James James W. Good seems to have qualified as the country's leading optimist.

Arriving in Chicago the other day on a business trip through the middle west, the secretary remarked that the troubles of Chicago, centering about the gang wars, bootleg rings and racketeering combines, were nothing more or less than "growing pains."

"Perhaps," he said, "it is because Chicago so completely and emphatically represents the problems, difficulties and perplexities of modern cities, grown to unexampled greatness in amazingly short time, that it has had more than a fair share of attention to its derelictions."

This, on the whole, is the most optimistic view anyone has given the Chicago situation in a long time. Some people, far from calling the gangland mess a species of growing pains, have seen it a token of the last days—a symbol that not only Chicago but all of America is on the verge of a breakdown, in which democracy, as we know it, is going to smash.

Yet the secretary is probably right. It is no use trying to gauge what happens in this country by the old standards. The outstanding fact about us is that we are headed toward something entirely new in the world. Just what that will be may not be quite clear, yet; but it will be unlike anything that has gone before, and our way of arriving at it, likewise, will be unique.

The nation began as a place where every man could be free. The old tyrannies were thrown off; any man who cared to cross the Atlantic and try his luck in the new land could be sure that there would be both opportunity and freedom awaiting him.

In the early days, that was a new conception of things. No such thing had ever been tried. Naturally, people did not quite know how to handle themselves—and a long series of mistakes, ranging all the way from the Civil War to the recent oil scandals, were the inevitable result.

A lot of people would have fewer troubles if they would think less about the injustices of life and work more.

It's fun to exercise. Much more fun than it is to diet. But a sensible diet is a wise health measure as well as a beauty precaution.

It isn't hard to do this. Any woman can exercise and diet—most modern women are aware of the methods they might use to stay young and attractive. But they are lazy—and they let mere inertia, mental inertia more than anything else, prevent them from presenting their best appearances and keeping up with the times. Of course you can find so-called "stylish stout" dresses and coats—but what woman really wants to? At best, they are a poor compromise with true style and beauty. And such an unnecessary compromise—one that no woman, whoever or wherever she is, has to make.

SOUTHPAWS SLATED TO OPPOSE XENIANS IN CURTAIN RAISER

Bartlett Clothiers Are Foes; Wells Will Pitch.

The only southpaw pitchers in captivity in Springfield are on the roster of the Springfield Bartlett Clothiers which will assist the Xenia Reserves in formally inaugurating the 1929 local baseball season in a game at Washington Park Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The two left-handers in question are "Lefty" Valentine and "Lefty" Guyton. The Reaper City team also has a young righthander, "Neil" Yarger, who has been showing up exceptionally well in practice games for him.

The Bartlett Clothiers do not take a back seat to any of the semi-pro clubs in Springfield and fully intend to give the Reserves

a good drubbing if possible in retaliation for defeats in past years.

Greene Bros., backers of the Reserves, learned Friday night that

Tommy Bolton, formerly pitcher for the Richmond, Ind., Dukes, who wore a Reserve uniform part of last season, will be here Sunday and will pitch part of the game.

Dick Wells will also pitch.

Candidates for the Reserve squad will be issued new uniforms at the Chickie House up until 1:30 p.m.

Sunday. Players not receiving equipment by that hour may get their uniforms later at the park,

it is announced.

To return to the Bartlett Clothiers, the Springfield nine has three outstanding stars in Al Baringer at second and Ferneau and Baughman in the outfield.

WILBERFORCE WINS FROM CAPITAL NINE

Rallying in the first half of the ninth inning, Wilberforce University's nine came from behind to score eight runs and defeat Capital University 14 to 8 in the opening game of the season for the Lutheran team at Bexley Field, Columbus, Friday afternoon.

Fritz, who started on the mound for Capital, held Wilberforce to two hits and one run in the first five frames, but injured his ankle in the next stanza and retired from the game. Wilberforce jumped on his successors for two runs in the sixth, three in the seventh and eight in the ninth.

Capital piled up an early advantage, tallying three runs in the second and five more in the fourth.

Ward led the Wilberforce attack with a home run and a single. Terrell poked out a double and a single.

Wilberforce outhit Jerry Katherine's team, eight blows to seven.

TRAPSHOOTERS TO OPEN WEDNESDAY

The Central Ohio Trapshooting League, now entering its sixteenth year of activity, will stage its first shoot of the current season at Vandala Field, Dayton, Wednesday, April 24, being the initial meet of the five regular yearly contests which are conducted by this veteran organization, each one of the five being registered with the Amateur Trapshooters' Association and held under the rules of the parent body.

In the 1928 meet, Bruce Leveck, Xenia, proved the best on the 50 sixteen-yard targets, shattering 47 for first honors. Leveck with 43 was also runnerup on the distance targets.

SOUTHPAWS SLATED TO OPPOSE XENIANS IN CURTAIN RAISER

Bartlett Clothiers Are Foes; Wells Will Pitch.

A chance to travel, a splendid trophy, local, state and national honors, and an opportunity to see all of the games of the big world series await the sandlot nine that forges its way to the championship in the 1929 Junior Baseball Series being conducted by the American Legion.

The Oakland, Calif., junior team traveled a total of approximately 15,000 miles last year before settling down at the close of The American Legion Junior World Series.

Local tournaments in Greene County will be sponsored this summer prior to August 10 by American Legion posts of Xenia and Fairfield and Osborn.

All games will be played under the official rules of baseball and on regulation diamonds. The ball used must be a standard league ball. Boys who have not played baseball for money and who have attained their seventeenth birthday before September 15, 1929, are eligible to play.

That the Junior Baseball World Series, made possible through co-operation of the American and National Leagues and the American Legion, is a vital force in making healthy and responsible citizens of the nation's youth, is the opinion of leaders whose names are known to the far-corners of the sporting world. Here is what some of them say:

Kenesaw M. Landis, commissioner of organized baseball: "It will arouse great interest in the national game among thousands of boys throughout the country. I feel that we have taken part in a great work by establishing the permanent and healthy growth of baseball."

The National and American Leagues again this year contributed $50,000 to help defray the expenses of bringing teams together in regional, sectional and world series of the Legion program. President John A. Heydler, of the National League, and President E. S. Barnard, of the American League, have both expressed their opinions as to the possibilities of the program.

President Barnard: "In voting unanimously to stand behind the American Legion in its campaign for a great interest in baseball and Americanization in general among the boys of the nation, I believe that the major leagues have taken a step that will meet with the endorsement of the public."

President Heydler: "The major leagues feel that the American Legion plan for developing sandlot baseball is an excellent means of perpetuation of the game and of keeping the nation's youth out of mischief. Not only will it stimulate the interest of the youth of America in baseball, but it will also result in a very substantial increase in the number of playing grounds from coast to coast."

John L. Griffith, athletic commissioner of the "Big Ten": "The nation-wide Junior Baseball program, sponsored by the American Legion, the National and American Leagues, is the most thoroughly conceived move in modern history of American athletics."

SEEK GOLD THOUGHT BURIED IN VALLEY

WATSONVILLE, Cal., April 20—Finding of a letter written in 1872 by a member of the Vallejo family has once again instituted a search for Spanish gold which is believed to have been buried near here by Antoine Vallejo soon after the Civil War.

Vallejo, who owned twelve leagues of land in the Pajaro Valley, was riding to Pajaro after a trip to a ranch near the present site of the city of Santa Cruz where he had sold 1,000 head of cattle at $50 each.

The famous landowner stopped overnight at one of his places in the valley and the next day continued his trip to Pajaro. Vallejo never reached his home. He was thrown from his horse and killed.

From the time the gold was placed in his saddlebags the day before no one has since been known to have seen the money but it is believed the fortune was cashed in the Pajaro Valley.

By Summers of Lorain: Gives county commissioners right to fix time during which ditch assessments may be levied.

By Zimmerman: Company adds to Osborn rate bond.

Additional bond of $300 for the village of Osborn filed by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., to cover increased rates now in effect during the state utility commission's investigation of such rates, was approved by the commission Thursday.

The added bond for forty-six villages and cities totals $13,112,668.94 and complies with an order of March 21 which was made when the utility board felt that previous bond filed was insufficient.

Osborn is the only community in Greene County affected by the order.

The Ohio Bell is principal in the bond and the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. is surely.
